Dear Chamber Members,

We recognize that this has been an extremely tough summer for all of our local businesses and our community and at this time many are juggling getting resettled, orienting to the reopening of the river and managing servicing the fire crews in town. Please note that your Chamber Board President, Stephanie Ferry has reached out to all of our local, state and federal representatives in search of any assistance that is available to local businesses who have been affected by the Swan Lake Fire. At this point, we are hearing back that low interest loans may be available through the Small Business Association (SBA) and not grants. More information should be available later this month coming from the Borough about this possibility thru SBA. Chamber member, Keith Mantey of Gwins Lodge has also been reaching out for resources and what is need for the Small Business Administration (SBA) declare a disaster for the Swan Lake Fire under their Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program. Included in this newsletter is our Chamber Presidents communication to the Kenai Borough, and Keith's letter to the State of Alaska's Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management and their responses for you to read. We also encourage our members to reach out to the Kenai Peninsula Economic Development District, they have a micro-loan program that could possibly help. Please visit <https://kpedd.org/micro-loans/> for more information.

The thank you celebration in Soldotna for the fire fighters and first responders was well attended. We still cannot express enough gratitude to all the hard work put in by the Alaska Department of Natural Resources Division of Forestry, the Alaska Incident Management Team, the Northwest Incident Management Team, the Eastern Area Type 2 Incident Management Team, the Great Basin Incident 1 Team and the Northern Rockies Incident Management Team. We also are incredibly grateful to all the wild land fire fighters who have been out at the forefront of this fire battling the flames, brush, terrain, bugs, weather, etc. Thank you firefighters for all of your long days of hard work!

Lastly, be sure to attend our third annual Cooper Landing Community Club Meeting being held Thursday, September 26th at 6 pm. Lets keep up the momentum of community involvement! Many of you have been making it to the Swan Lake Fire meetings, so be sure to join us to see what else is going on in the Landing!

Cooper Landing Community Club Update

While the last few weeks of August have felt like an eternity, we have now entered September. We are extremely grateful to the Alaska Department of Natural Resources Division of Forestry, the Alaska Incident Management Team, the Northwest Incident Management Team, the Eastern Area Type 2 Incident Management Team, Great Basin Incident 1 Management Team, the Northern Rockies Incident Management team and all of the Wildland Firefighters & various crews who have been working tirelessly to keep our community safe! The Structure Team has been using the Hall as their base camp and many crews have gathered there for morning meetings.

The next Community Club meeting will be held on September 26th at 6 pm. Please submit any agenda items to us at: Cooperlandingcommunityclub@gmail.com.

September 6, 2019

Dear Ms. Ahlberg,

I am writing on behalf of the Cooper Landing Chamber of Commerce and all of our members. As you are well aware, the businesses in Cooper Landing have suffered severely due to the Swan Lake Fire. We are primarily a seasonal community with a major dependence on the months of May-September for most of our incomes. While our tourism is mainly seasonal, our small town stays populated year round with hard working families and small business owners.

Between the intermittent road closures, the extremely poor air quality and the closure of the boat ramps, each business in Cooper Landing has suffered since the beginning of this fire. Our businesses have been especially affected since the fire became very active again mid-August. Additionally, having been on alert for evacuation has created so much uncertainty. Some folks have flown out of state or sent their children to other towns to stay with family to get out of the smoke and uncertainty. It has not supported a healthy business or living environment.

Lodges and motels have had huge cancellations which have had a resounding effect throughout the community. For example, a large wedding cancelled at Alaska Heavenly Lodge. Many of those folks were lodging at other spots in Cooper Landing, many were booked on fishing charters and all would have been eating in the restaurants in Cooper Landing.

Many of our fishing and rafting guides have had to refund fishing trips due to the river closures and air quality. They are finding that people are cancelling their entire Alaskan vacation due to those things. They also depend on the steady stream of visitors who book lodging and then book last minute guided tours with our guides.

As you can imagine, this is primarily affecting us in Cooper Landing and Sterling, but it also has an effect on businesses in Anchorage, Soldotna, Seward, Homer, etc.

Many folks do not agree with the management plan of the federal refuge to "Let it Burn". We feel that the policy allowed the Swan Lake Fire to get out of hand and left it with only 18 crew assigned to the fire in July and early August. Understanding that there were possibly more pressing large fires across the state which threatened homes and structures, it still seems crazy to allow a fire like ours with such potential, to just burn. No structures have been lost (yet) but, the mismanagement has severely affected our livelihoods, families and businesses. We've been dealing with this uncertainty for three months now and currently, we are hearing that the fire is not out and potentially could still be burning into next summer, depending on snow fall this winter.

I would encourage you to push for a fund for our businesses to rely on for some relief. It will be extremely difficult for families to make it in Cooper Landing for the winter. Our school, library and several small businesses depend on local populations to support and keep them open year round. I have already heard of many families who will be very strapped this winter and it will possibly be very difficult for them to return to Cooper Landing next year.

A fund that businesses could draw from to replace at least some of the lost business this summer would be very helpful and a huge relief for our community. As a chamber, we are weighing the option of waiving membership fees for the upcoming membership drive. Many businesses will be taking a hard look at items to cut and marketing and promotion could very easily end up on that chopping block.

Having said all of that, I must also say that we are all so thankful for the incident management team and firefighters on the front line. The communications we've received through the KPB Alerts Facebook page and the many community meetings have been truly wonderful and very appreciated by all our community members.

I understand this is Federal Land and was a federal decision but, we need all hands on board to help our residents and business owners. We would appreciate any insight or advice on a next step for this effort and any information on pending efforts to help our communities. Thank you for your support and hard work,

Stephanie Lesmeister

Greetings Ms. Stephanie:

My apologies for the delayed response; however, I took the time to make some calls before responding to your letter. To date, there are no federal programs that can provide financial assistance to individual business owners. Yesterday, I did confirm with the AK Division of Homeland Security & Emergency Management (DHS) that the Small Business Administration (SBA) program could be making low interest loans available. Right now, SBA is confirming qualifications based upon the homes lost and economic impacts due to fires in the MatSu and Fairbanks Northstar boroughs. Once this is approved, the businesses on the Kenai Peninsula Borough would also be eligible for the SBA program. The official announcement should be released by the end of the month (that's my best guesstimate).

The borough is not authorized to make loans to private industry. There is a tax deferral option for primary homeowners that have suffered physical property damages during a disaster; thankfully, no residential structures have been damaged in the Swan Lake Fire. I've also reached out to the AK Small Business Development Center to see if they may have any resources to share. I'll send a follow up email after I hear from them. They worked closely with businesses after the earthquake and will also help with the SBA announcement after it has been approved.

Lastly, the Economic Development Association announced today that federal grants are available for communities to improve public infrastructure that assists with economic development. The federal grants are for those states that have open federal disaster declarations. The state of Alaska's most recent fed dec is a result of the November 2018 earthquake. I realize that this grant program doesn't help the private business owner, but I didn't want it to be the source of potential confusion. I've had a few folks ask me to clarify options under the EDA announcement.

I am very humbled that you have taken the time to contact me. Please do not hesitate to contact me at any time. I will continue to research options, but please note that I will be honest with you too. I wish that there was more information that I could provide you today. Kindest regards, B

A letter from Keith Mantey of Gwins Lodge to CL Chamber Members

Dear Cooper Landing,

I would ask that you please send this worksheet statement in to make the case for having some sort of economic disaster settlement for our area affected by the Swan Lake Fire. Thanks, Keith w/Gwin's Lodge mo. 907.398.3985

Subject: Disaster Economic Injury Swan Lake Fire

As we discussed on the phone, thank you for agreeing to complete the attached Estimated Disaster Economic Injury Worksheet. This information will be used to provide the supporting documentation that is needed to request that the Small Business Administration (SBA) declare a disaster for the Swan Lake Fire under their Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program. As I mentioned, this is not an application for assistance; it simply provides the basic information needed to justify an EIDL disaster declaration for the community as a result of the Swan Lake Fire.

Please complete the attached form and send it back to me by email or FAX (907-428-7095).

The official start date of the Swan Lake Fire was June 5. I would recommend using that as the starting date. Ideally the end date would be today, but realistically it would probably be the date through which you have revenue information available.

Thank you for your willingness to help me gather this documentation needed to help obtain this assistance for businesses in the Swan Lake Fire area. Please contact me if you have any questions or need more information.

Thank You,

Welcome Back!

Welcome to the 2019-2020 school year! We currently have fourteen students enrolled, and they are excited to be back in school after an enjoyable summer. We are looking forward to the adventures this new school year will bring.

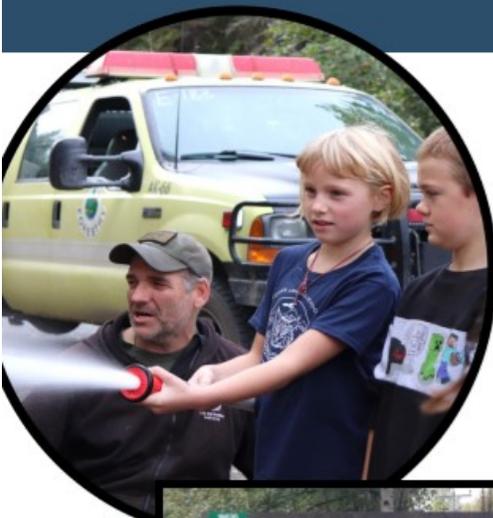

Bayne

This year we are delighted to welcome one new kindergartener, Bayne Harpe. His favorite color is blue and his favorite food is kiwi. Bayne really enjoys playing dodgeball in the gym and he can count to 100!

2nd Annual Cooper Landing Wood Pile Contest

Show Off Your Stack!

Do you or someone you love suffer from OWD (Obsessive Wood Disorder)? Or with all the Firewise help from our wonderful wildland firefighters, do you now have a mountain of wood in your yard? Well, split it and stack it and show it off! Enter and you could be the winner of the 2nd Annual Cooper Landing Wood Pile Contest!

Three judges will look at wood piles in Cooper Landing Sunday, October 27th, 2019 and the winner will be announced and presented with a plaque made by our local wood burning artist expert Rabbit at the CL Library Sweepstakes event on Saturday, November 2nd, 2019.

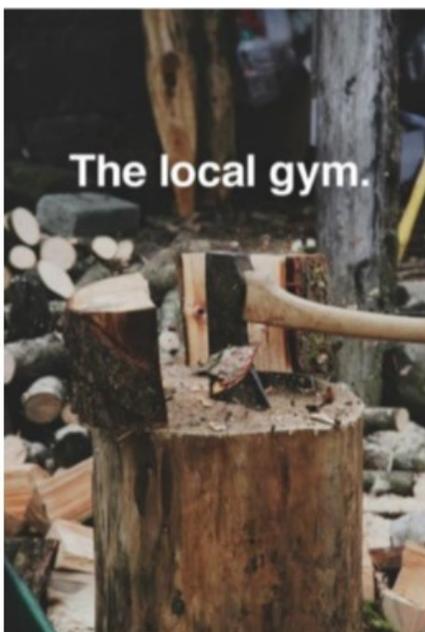

This is an informal and fun contest. Wood piles will be rated at the discretion of our judges, (last years winner, Gary Mitchell, will be one of them!) evaluating quantity, variety of wood, stacking technique, storage location, creativity and more. Please note, on the day of judging, bribes with Hot Chocolate,

Cider and cookies is totally acceptable.

There is a $5 entry fee (to help continue to pay for plaque) that will be collected day of judging or can be mailed in to PO Box 866, Cooper Landing 99572. To participate, email yvette@akmarketingconsultants.com or call/text 907-230-3055. Let the axes swing and the chainsaws roar!

Rules For Chopping Your Own Wood

1. Never park down hill of a tree you are cutting.
2. When in doubt, park twice as far from the tree as the tree is tall.
3. Just because you live within driving distant of a forest, does not make you a Lumber Jack.
4. Always use the neighbors truck.
